

2012 Annual precaution & enhancement

Below is the diagram that you normally see in the yearly Chinese Tong Shu:

Description of the diagram

The diagram describes the commanding flying star of the year (center) and the distribution of various stars in each sector.

Description of stars

1-White

The 1-White star is a positive star and it represents nobility, knowledge and wisdom. It is sometimes known as Tang Lang Star and belongs to the Water element. 1-White also represents good name and reputation.

2-Black

2-Black star is a negative star and it represents sickness. It is sometimes known as Ju Men Star and it represent illness. It has the element of Earth. If your front door or bedroom is visited by 2-Black, you and your family have to be careful of illness befalling your family.

3-Jade

3-Jade is known as argument star and it contribute to misunderstanding and argument. It has the element of Wood and it is sometimes known as Lu Cun Star. 3-Jade will brings aggression, backstabbing, ramous, argument and misunderstanding to the family.

2012 Annual precaution & enhancement

4-Green

4-Green is a positive star and it is a scholar star. It is also known as Wen Qu Star. It is a star of learning, academic and literacy success. It also represents romance and positive relationship. It has the element of Wood.

5-Yellow

5-Yellow is the worst of all stars. Basically 5-Yellow brings negative calamity like bankruptcy, major illnesses and betrayal. It has the element of Earth. It is also known as Lian Zhen Star.

6-White

6-White is the star of authority and status and has the element of Metal. It is also known as Wu Qu star. It will be auspicious if your front door is visited by 6-White. It denotes promotion or pay rise.

7-Red

7-Red is a negative star and it denotes theft, robbery, injury and fire calamity. It has the element of Metal and also known as Po Jun star. Sometimes, it also represents problem caused by Peach Blossom (i.e. scandal). It also indicates surgery due to health problem.

8-White

8-White is the most auspicious star. It represents prosperity and wealth. It has the element of Earth and sometimes it is known as Zou Fu Star. When activated, it will bring wealth as a result of hard work and personal efforts.

9-Purple

9-Purple is also an auspicious star. It has the element of Fire and sometimes it is also known as Fu Bi Star. This star promotes beauty, joyful occasion, glory and warmth.

2012 Precaution and Enhancement

Note:

- Remove all placement done for 2011 after 23rd Dec 2011 (before 4th Feb 2012)
 - E.g. Salt Coin Cure at East
- 2012 placement must be done between 23rd Dec 2011 – 4th Feb 2012

Annual San Sha (三煞) - South (2012)

San Sha is the most inauspicious stars. It consists of 3 stars – Robbery Sha, Calamity Sha and Sui Sha. (劫煞, 灾煞, 岁煞). In 2012 San Sha is at the South Sector. (157.6° - 202.5°). With San Sha at the South, we need to pay attention to our heart or arteries. Extreme care should be exercised if you try to disturb the south. Be careful if your house door or bedroom is located in the south or facing south. Especially if there is any disturbance or unpleasant object (Sha Qi) coming from the South.

2012 Annual precaution & enhancement

Keep the South sector quiet but if high human traffic or bedroom, it is better to put the following placements:

- 3 X Qiling facing out (South)
- 1 X Plant
- 1 X bucket of water

Annual Flying Star

Bad Star:

5-Yellow is at SE. Since 5-Yellow is Earth element, make sure there is no red item in the SE sector. Place a Salt Coin Cureⁱ to counter.

2-Black is at North. Put a Metal Calabash to counter the illness star.

3-Jade is at SW. 3-Jade is wood element. Put something Red (e.g. carpet) to suppress the energy.

7-Metal is at NW. Make sure that there is no red item and put something blue in that area.

Good Star:

8-White which is a wealth star is at West. Put a Citron Crystal for financial enhancement.

1-White is at South. 1-White is water element. Put 4 stalk of Lucky Bamboo for career, academic or romance enhancement.

4-Green is at East. Put a glass of water for career, academic or romance enhancement.

9-Purple is at NE. Put a plant to bring any joyful event.

Annual Tai Sui (2012)

(Optional or keep the place quiet)

- Tai Sui is at Chen (SE: 112.6°- 127.5°)
 - Put 2 X Qiling facing Out
- Conflict Tai Sui is at Xu (NW: 292.6°- 307.5°)
 - Put 2 X Qiling facing Out

ⁱ See <http://www.fengshui-hacks.com/Resources/How to make Salt Coin Cure.pdf> on how to make your own Salt Coin Cure