Qian-Kun Luck Changing Pendant

Everyone's body has the capability to release or absorb energy from the surrounding. For example, if we constantly in contact with someone who's energy field is filthy, this person can contaminate our internal energy. However, if we constantly in contact with someone who's energy field is good, our body can absorb such energy and further enhanced our own internal energy. Our forefathers already found this out. Therefore, thousand of years ago our forefathers already invented protective items that can protect and enhance our internal energy. By wearing such items, it will protect us from harmful energy as well as enhance our internal energy and bring it up to favourable level.

The Qian-Kun Luck Changing pendant uses natural stones arranged in the 7-stars formation (big dipper) is designed such a way that it can be used for everybody. The calabash-shaped combined with specially selected stone arranged in auspicious 7-stars formation will help to protect and prevent bad energy from harming the person.

Qi Men home enhancement bronze elephant

The primary objective of this bronze elephant is to bring good fortune and wealth enhancement to your home. There are 2 variances to this bronze elephant. The one with trunk down is used to be placed at Wealth sector to "absorb" wealth (enhance wealth). The one with the trunk up is used to be placed at bad sector to "prevent" bad energy from manifesting. In addition, traditionally elephant is associated with luck and prosperity. Elephant is imposing but gentle. Elephant is good at absorbing water. Chinese regards water as wealth. If your house has window or balcony that faces water, you can put this bronze elephant to absorb wealth into your house.

This Qi Men home enhancement bronze elephant is designed based on special techniques that were passed down from previous Qi Men Dun Jia Masters. The major difference is that on both sides of this bronze elephant, there is Qi Men talisman imprinted on both side of the body. Different type of Qi Men talisman is used for different purposes. There is Wealth Talisman to bring in wealth, Home Enhancement Talisman for general home placement, Career Talisman for career opportunity, improve husband and wife Relationship Talisman, Academic Talisman to improve your study capability etc.

The Qi Men bronze elephant with the trunk facing down will absorb prosperous Qi and will enhance the sitting position. For example, in Fengshui study, it is advisable to have a mountain at sitting position (back) of the house. Elephant is a big animal and it is like a big mountain. Therefore, placing this Qi Men bronze elephant at the sitting position of living room, office or study, will increase the energy of the sitting position. In addition, it will increase your position as a leader (sitting position is regards as the position of a leader). Furthermore, the bronze elephant with the trunk facing down has the ability to absorb wealth from outside. Therefore, placing it facing a water features will increase the wealth of occupant, especially for those in business.
